NAVAL WEAPONS STATION EARLE
COLTS NECK, NEW JERSEY

This announces that an Action Memorandum, Engineering Evaluation and Cost Analysis (EE/CA) for removal of spent metal bullets from impacted soils at Naval Weapons Station Earle Sites 24 and 26 under the Navy's Installation Restoration Program has been issued. The Northern Division of the Naval Facilities Engineering Command, the lead agency for recommended activity, has recommended removal of metal bullets (small caliber ammunition bullets) to minimize the potential for runoff of metals on surface or groundwater. This process involves excavating the soils, mechanically separating the bullets from the soils and finally conducting a water rinse of the soils prior to replacing the clean soil on the sites. The recovered metal bullets will be sent to a metal recycler. Naval Weapons Station Earle will consider written and verbal comments on all the proposed alternatives before final selection of the remedial alternative and issuance of a Decision Document reflecting this choice. Written comments must be postmarked by August 19, 1996.

Copies of the Memorandum and EE/CA for this site may be reviewed at the repository listed below:
