Subject: RE: MCRD FY11 SMP EPA Conditional Approval
Date: Monday, December 20, 2010 10:54:25 AM

Hi team,

The Final SMP if the Navy is in agreement with EPA's Conditional Approval should also include EPA's redlines. We have already reviewed multiple version of this SMP, and I do not want to waste more time until the Navy can send me the Final version. Also ALL comments should be responded to and should reflect ALL final agreements.

A hard copy should be provided and the end of December review date will not be met at this point. Remember as stated in the November team meeting, when document submittal dates slip, then review dates do as well not only for that document but all others in the review line as well!

Thanks,
Meredith

All,

The SMP, based on the last meeting and recent extension request responses, is attached. Please note;the RTCs were prepared before our last meeting and do not reflect all final agreements in the last meeting and the responses to the extension request.

The hard copy is in the FED EXPRESS

Hi team,

If the SMP is going to change based on EPA's conditional approval, then the Department will need another hard copy with changes that is the final version. I don't want to spend time reviewing this version if it is not final. Also, RTCs were not attached to this version of the SMP, so I will need those as well.

Thanks!
Meredith

See attached EPA Conditional Approval Letter, with Redlines of SMP Text, Table 1 and Table 3, and a reminder page to insert Table 2 from Navy files.

The signed letter has a line through each page generated by our messed up scanner. If you need a clean copy, let me know and I will send you one once the scanner is fixed. Charles, you will have a clean original hard copy coming in the mail. Maybe you could scan it for Mark for the Administrative Record.

Any questions, please call me.
